021 ACSI From The Director's Desk | 13th June 2024

Dear Principals

For the majority of our schools, this week brings a well-deserved time of rest after what has been a busy, productive term. For many, the end of term has probably also meant the writing of exams, and the inevitable stresses which accumulate in their wake. As such, we trust that the next few weeks will bring an opportunity to be refreshed, while also reflecting on a successful couple of months of sowing into the lives of those in your school.

We are grateful for the large numbers of teachers and leaders who attended ACSI teacher conferences and principal meetings across the country this past term. We look forward to meeting up with even more of you in the coming months, as we have a full programme lined up. In particular, we are excited to be presenting our first ever teacher conference in East London, and we hope to see a large turnout of teachers and leaders at that event. Please see below for registration details for the Eastern Cape and Western Cape events. The holidays are something of a speedbump in the whole registration process, so please be sure to register before the deadlines.

May you be refreshed by the encouragement that “those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength.” May your hope be rekindled, and your energy levels be restored during this holiday time. And may this be just as true for our three-term schools, as you continue to be a blessing to all those in your school.
